

Addressing Unprofessional Conduct

Watch the FacDev in 5 Video featuring Dr. Abbey Lara, Associate Professor, Medicine – Pulmonary Sciences and Critical Care, Associate Dean of PATH.
tinyurl.com/FD5-Unprofessionalism

Key Takeaways

Practical approaches for addressing unprofessional conduct with clarity, consistency, and respect.

1

Recognize and Name the Behavior

Identify specific, observable actions rather than broad labels to focus feedback and reduce defensiveness.

2

Address It Early and Directly

Address concerns promptly and privately before they become larger issues.

3

Use a Conversation Framework

Structure feedback by describing what you observed, expressing your concern, and asking for the other perspective.

4

Focus on Impact and Expectation

Explain why the behavior matters and clearly state expectation moving forward.

5

Document and Follow Up

Document concerns, revisit progress, and recognize improvement over time.

Dive Deeper

Binder, R. and Friedli, A. Preventing and managing unprofessionalism in medical school faculties. Academic Medicine. 2015.

Gibson, D.D. et al. Creating a culture of professionalism: an integrated approach. Academic Medicine. 2000.

Murphy, J. Creating communities of professionalism: addressing cultural and structural barriers. Journal of Educational Administration. 2015.